Purple People Labs

World's Highest Academic Creators Lab for Schools

Purple People Labs – Leh, Ladakh (Established 2024)
Launched under the PM eVidya mission of the Ministry of Education, the Content Creators Lab in Leh, Ladakh is India's highest academic film studio dedicated to schools.

Designed to empower teachers as content creators for five television channels allocated to the Union Territory of Ladakh, the Lab combines curriculum design, studio infrastructure and film pedagogy training to enable schools as content creators of;

- 10 original educational IPs
- 300+ episodes of curriculum-aligned content
- Teacher- and student-led audiovisual productions

The project continues to run as an ongoing teacher training and content production initiative. Through sustained capacity-building and film pedagogy training we address Ladakh's unique geographical and cultural context while strengthening digital, creative and life skills to empower teachers and students to produce impactful content for national & global audiences

Over the years, this Content Creators Lab has enabled the development of original content for the Ladakh School Education Department, including academic programmes, children's debate shows, panel discussions, performing and visual arts-based learning series and community storytelling initiatives.

Kidding Around Bharat

Educational Tours Integrating Rural Impact + Film & Media Skills

Kidding Around Bharat is a collaborative educational tours initiative with the EducationWorld Foundation, designed to empower students with film & media skills to further promote rural tourism, cultural exchange and community storytelling across India.

Designed as a community exchange and filmmaking initiative, KAB enables students to explore India beyond textbooks — connecting with people, places and traditions, while learning filmmaking and photography as tools for expression and reflection.

At its core, KAB believes that: Children learn best when they step out of classrooms, connect with people, and tell stories from real life. Through purpose-led educational tours, students explore;

- Discover diverse regions of India
- Develop creative and media skills
- Reconnect with cultural roots
- Contribute meaningfully to rural narratives through films

Each KAB tour results in student-created documentary films and travelogues that bring together learning, culture, creativity and community engagement in one powerful experience.

ECA TV

India's First OTT Platform for Early Childhood Education

ECA TV is an upcoming digital learning platform developed in collaboration with the Early Childhood Association (ECA) and the Association for Preparatory Education & Research (APER). Designed as a dedicated OTT ecosystem and Digital University for early years education, the platform will bring together teachers, parents, and young learners through engaging, research-driven audiovisual content.

The platform aims to transform how early childhood knowledge is shared by converting expert resources, training modules, and educational publications into accessible video-based learning experiences. From teacher masterclasses and classroom innovations to parenting guidance and children's edutainment, ECA TV will create a dynamic space where educators and families learn and grow together.

Teacher Upskill As Content Creators, aligned with the Government of India's vision for digital learning and the PM eVidya mission, ECA TV will also support the creation of original educational programming that can reach wider audiences through digital and broadcast platforms. Through initiatives such as Teacher Talkies, educators from across the ECA–APER network will be trained and featured as content creators, enabling a nationwide ecosystem of peer-to-peer learning and knowledge sharing.

Stay Tuned, ECA TV Coming Soon.

SWADESHPLEX

OUR WONDERFUL WATCHLIST

Since 2012, our Film Pedagogy programs at Purple People Labs have mentored children and teachers to create purpose-driven cinema as young content creators. Our films have featured on PM Vidya Channels of Ladakh and won accolades at International Film Festivals including the Seattle International Film Festival, I&B Ministry's - The Golden Elephant, MICE Film Festival Venice, Miami International Film Festival & the prestigious Cannes 2025.

Soon, these remarkable films will be available for viewing on our upcoming impact OTT platform, Swadeshplex, accessible at Just ₹1 — because we believe in the ONEders of One! One Idea, One Story,

One Film is all it takes to make a difference. Every rupee will be reinvested as a creative grant to support new content ideas from teachers and students.

In India, with over 25 crore school-going children and 15 lakh schools in India, and less than 0.02% of cinema created specifically for children, we see filmmaking as a vital tool for education, communication and social impact. Through our vision to 'Make A Difference, One Film At A Time', we invite you to explore a curated sneak peek into this inspiring world of young creators and meaningful cinema.

PROJECT GULLAK
Make A Difference, One Film At A Time!

Inspired by the traditional gullak (piggy bank), Project Gullak is a coherent grant for young filmmakers that nurtures real stories from rural Bharat into impactful films.

With support from our school projects and CSR partners, we organize filmmaking workshops & educational film tours for children across unique villages, NGOs or communities. Films made by children are then screened across various schools and festivals to create awareness and invite support to sustain developmental projects for the same NGO/community.

Udaipur – Piplantri Filmtour

Eco-Feminism, Sustainability & Model Village Of India

This journey introduces students to one of India's most inspiring community transformation stories — Piplantri Village, led by Padma Shri Shyam Sunder Paliwal, widely known as the father of eco-feminism in India. In Piplantri, every time a girl child is born, 111 trees are planted, creating a powerful movement that connects environmental conservation with women's empowerment. Today the village stands as a model village of India, known for its green cover, improved groundwater levels and strong community participation.

Students travel from Udaipur to Piplantri to experience this remarkable transformation first-hand. Through interactions with village leaders, community members and schools, students understand how sustainable development, environmental stewardship and social change can work together. The tour concludes in the beautiful city of Udaipur, where students explore heritage sites and experience adventure and cultural activities while documenting stories of environmental leadership.
